

THE CENTRAL RECORD

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 10 1908.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar—not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him—he was a dentist, by the way:

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

HONEST, NOW—AIN'T I RIGHT?

Now's The Best Time

to get genuine, honest
bargains in Dry Goods,
Dress Goods, Shoes,
Etc., as

This is Time of Year

when the old, established business houses put on especially low prices to clear out winter stock. You know this is never done until after the Holidays-- that is by those who mean business. Call on us and see.

Joseph Mercantile COMPANY.

Incorporated.

We must realize money on all accounts and you will do us a favor by settling now.

Local Items.

Music, music, illusions, imitations and vaudeville at the court house next Monday night, 13th. One of the most wonderful attractions on the road. Go and help a good cause, be side getting more than value received.

Killing at Flat Woods.

Speed Nichols was killed near Flat Woods Thursday night by John Mason, also a resident of that section. Mason came to town and was released on bond until next term of circuit court. We understand an old quarrel was cause of the fatal trouble.

Masonic Election.

At the annual election of officers of Lancaster Masonic Lodge, the following were chosen: J M Rothwell, W M, H V Bastin, S W, L L Walker, J W, J W Sweeney, Treas, Louis Landram, Secty, A T Anderson, Tyler. The deacons have not been appointed.

The Dairy Opens.

The Creamery, which closed temporarily, began business again on first of the year, and has been even more successful than when in operation before. The farmers and other owners of cows have realized the great blessing the Creamery is to them, consequently are much more interested. There is no doubt of the permanency of the institution now, we are glad to say.

Pollard

After a lingering illness, Mrs George Pollard died at her residence, on Danville street, Saturday. The deceased was the widow of the late George Pollard, who was killed by Will Hummer, Pollard filling the position of deputy city marshal. The remains were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery Sunday afternoon. She leaves six children.

Much Interest and Much Good.

The above headline tells the result of the protracted meeting which is being conducted by Rev E E Dawson, of Mt Sterling, assisted by the pastor, Rev J H Williams. The attendance has increased at each service, and at present the house is crowded with members of all denominations. Every body is cordially invited and given a hearty reception. Mr Dawson is a fine speaker, and his sermons show the result of hard study and a bright mind. Several additions have been made to the membership, while every one who has attended has been uplifted and benefited. Services are held at 2:30 and 7:15 p. m. The meeting will close Sunday night.

Just a Little Horse Sense.

The above headline tells just what merchants need. When a farmer sells his hay, lard, tobacco, hemp, or anything else, he demands his money. Some won't even take a check, but demand the real cash. When a man goes into a bank to borrow money, the banker asks, "Who is going your security?" Before a money lender lets his money out, he makes arrangements for a mortgage, then has a fellow's deed examined to make sure the loan, but "through the lack of horse sense," as said above, the merchants throughout the land have indulged the public until people have come to believe the merchant ought to go and borrow money, mortgage his property and let goods out to be paid for "when they get in just the right shape." The merchant's notes come due, his bills fall due, the city merchants make a draft and threaten to sue him, he sends state ments to his debtors—but all in vain. Some few finally pay, others say "next week," but next week never comes. Now, Mr Farmer, reason the case with yourself—don't we deserve the same security as we have to put up to furnish goods for the people? Apply the Golden Rule, "Do unto Others as You Would be Done By," and when we are thus secured, goods don't go without the cash or it's equivalent. Bourne Merchant.

New Council Goes In.

The board of City Councilmen, elected in November, took formal charge of Lancaster's affairs Monday night. All were sworn in except Mr Alex Walker, who could not qualify by reason of his holding a contract with the town to furnish lights. Mayor Hugh T Logan makes an ideal presiding officer, while the councilmen took hold of the reins of government like they meant business. Luther Herron was made chief of police, tax collector and superintendent of the water works, all at a salary of $1,000 a year. L L Walker was made city attorney, W B Mason, clerk, D A Thomas, treasurer, C D Walker treasurer for sinking fund. No assessor was appointed. Capt Herron said he would make no appointment as deputy, as he was satisfied he could do all the work, with the tiger element under the good control it has been placed. The new board is composed of the following members: W B Burton, Jas Hill, J R Mount, Jas Smith and Banks Hudson, and that these gentlemen will give the city a good administration is a foregone conclusion. The salary of Mr Herron is made up as follows: $50 per month as marshal, $10 per month in lieu of commission on taxes collected and fees for arrests, $23.33 as superintendent of the water works, making a total of $1,000 a year. Services for all these places he performs without assistance, except a deputy on court day and other public days.

Money for jurors is ready for payment. F S Hughes.

The Ladies Aid Society will not have their regular meeting this week on account of the Christian Endeavor which will be held at the Christian church, Saturday, Jan 11th.

The new hotel is about completed and preparations are being made to move in. We hope to get a half-tone of the handsome building in next issue of The Record, at which a detailed description will be given.

Examinations.

The examination for graduates from the public schools will be held at the office of the County Superintendent's on Friday and Saturday, Jan 24 and 25th.

Bob Hughes President.

Our former townsman, R E Hughes, has again been shown that his efforts and capabilities as a business man are appreciated by being elected president of the Kentucky Electric Co, one of prominent institutions of Louisville. He succeeds Mr Donald McDonald. The Record extends most hearty congratulations to its good friend.

To Party-line Subscribers.

When ringing for central never engage in a conversation with a party that should happen to be listening, for when central comes in on the line, she thinks that you were calling him and therefore goes on about answering other calls, thus you are delayed. This rule should, at least, be observed at night, for when the operator is asleep he cannot distinguish the ring.

McMillan.

Mrs Francis McMillan, mother of Tom, Frank, Ed and Sam McMillan, died at her home near Hubbs last Saturday and was buried in the Lancaster Cemetery Sunday. She was a member of the Hubbs Christian church and a woman who was highly thought of by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed by many people who have been the recipients of her kindness and thoughtfulness.

Real Estate Sales.

Rue & Curry, of Harrodsburg, sold on Jan 1, 1908, for Clall Coleman, his house and lot to Chas W Robinson for $2,700, cash. On Jan 2, for Nettie Watkins, her house and lot to Mr Deny for $950, cash. On Jan 3, for Miss Irene Moore, her farm of 192 acres, near Burgin, to Wood Hatchett, of Mackville, for $9,000, cash. Possession. Mr Hatchett has moved to Harrodsburg and will make that place his future home.

Correction.

M D Hughes tells us to please correct the statement in last issue, that he had not purchased the property to which he moved on Water Street, as he is not able to buy it and does not desire to do so. He further says that the statements that he brings his lunch to the office and that he will not come up town at night, will not be believed when the public considers the fact that the statements were made by W I Williams and J R Mount.

Business Change.

The firm of Mount & Elkin has, by mutual consent, been dissolved, Mr Elkin retiring, and the new firm of J R Mount & Co, purchasing the stock and good will firm. The new firm will continue to run a hardware business up to date in every particular. The present stand has been used as a hardware store for many years, and is one of the best in town. The new firm starts into the business under most favorable conditions, and will put forth every effort to give the people the very best goods at most reasonable prices.

Change of Police Judges.

Police Judge D W C Armstrong, who tendered his resignation some time since, went out of office Monday night. Judge Armstrong has given a good administration, evil doors fearing him and knowing they must obey the law. He had much to do with stamping out blind tigers, as he did what he believed to be right and did not listen to dictation from anyone. He is a good citizen, and we trust he will remain in Lancaster. Gov Willson has appointed Mr E W Harris to fill vacancy until next election, and the appointment is one which will meet with the approval of all lovers of law and order.

A Worthy Tribute.

As a token of honor and esteem, the W C T U of this place has presented a clock to the retiring marshal, Mr J A Beazley. When Mr Beazley accepted a public trust he shouldered heavy responsibilities. How well he has acquitted himself, and how nobly he has discharged his duties makes one bright page in Lancaster's history. He has earned the respect, and esteem of the good people of the community. It seems fitting that we pay just tribute to the splendid work done by the Council, by Judge Armstrong who served without fear, or favor, the Mayor, Mr Duncan who is for right always. So by their co-operation our town is quiet, peaceful, and orderly, governed as a town should be. Mr Beazley has brought honor to this office. The good he has accomplished will live long in the memory and hearts of the people. The W C T U.

Lost.

Pair gold eye glasses, between Stanford and Lancaster on last Thursday. Reward for return to Central Record office.

Prof Lippard is pleased with the opening of the Lancaster Business College and the excellent quality of students entering. There are many other young people who should enter at once and prepare for good positions. Parents can do better than to give their sons and daughters a thorough business education, it helps them to larger success and is better than to give them money. Now the opportunity is at your door and saves board and traveling expenses. See Prof Lippard.

Lost Dogs.

Two black and tan dogs, one wearing E H Walker's collar and one with that of T C Lear, of Brodhead. Also two spotted bitches, one wearing collar of E H Walker and one with collar of Woods Walker. They disappeared Jan 2 in cedars at Gooch place. I will not only be thankful for information, but will come after the dogs and pay liberal reward. Woods Walker, Paint Lick, Ky. Phone 152X.

A Progressive Man.

J R Mount, who bought the interest of R L Elkin in the firm of Mount & Elkin, has located permanently with us, and has proved himself a progressive, substantial business man. By fair and honest dealing he has gained the confidence of the people. He is in favor of every public enterprise and is always ready to do his part in promoting the general welfare. We hope that others, like him and his excellent family, will locate with us.

The Best of the Season.

The W C T U will give another attraction next Monday night, the 13th, at 8 o'clock, at the Court house, when Durno, the mysterious, will appear waving his wand causing birds to appear in mid air, flowers to be seen growing, a bowl of water produced from a handkerchief, and many other feats of magic which always astound the audience. His mirth-provoking feats of ventriloquism are unsurpassed. Over 150 tickets have been sold. Children 25c, general admission, 35c, reserved seats 50c, at McRoberts' Drug Store.

Folger.

In memory of Halle Folger. A few weeks since this bright young girl was called home. Had she lived until March 25, she would have been fifteen years old. She confessed her faith in Christ last August. She was a lovely obedient child, the pet of the household. The only daughter and idolized by her parents. At school she received the highest marks and was loved and revered by pupils and teacher. This gentle spirit was too pure for earth, hence God transplanted her in His own flower garden. A friend.

They Are Invincible.

Everyone who had the pleasure of hearing Saxton & Trost's orchestra at the dance last week was simply carried away with the excellent music played by this incomparable band. We have contended all along that their music is the very best to be had, and if anyone thinking otherwise had heard them last week, no other band would ever make a note in Lancaster. The complete band consists of seven men—the requisite number to fill in all "gaps," and nothing extra should be expected of a smaller number. The writer has known Henry Saxton since we were both in our swaddling clothes, so to speak, and the warm friendship existing between the two has not in the least waned in all these years.

NEW UNITED STATES LAW

A ruling by the Post Office Department, at Washington, has just been made, which will work a great hardship on newspaper publishers and subscribers alike. It denies publishers the privilege of sending their papers through the mails after any subscriber's time has expired. In other words if your subscription expired with this issue of The Record and we should mail you a copy next week, both you and the editor of The Record are subject to fine. It is an outrageous law and should be set aside. If we want to send our paper to anyone, it's our business and no one has any say so, it seems to us, but Uncle Sam says not so. It means that publishers must go over their hundreds of names each week—a task requiring the best part of a day. There's but one thing to do, and that is for you and The Record to keep posted as to how we stand. Some people may think this is written as a bluff, but if you are of this opinion, ask your post master.

In his New Year's editorial, Bro. W. B. Brewer, of the Fairview Review, says: We are saying "good bye" to the old year. It has slipped away from us with all of its memories. It wakes a chord of pain in our heart as we think that it is a thing of the past. It has gone forever with its sunshine and shadows, its joys and its sorrows, its bright anticipations and sad disappointments, with its many opportunities employed or disregarded. Gone forever, which we cannot recall by any human ingenuity. We cannot live it over again. It is a thing of the past and will, like all human enterprises, be forgotten in the mad rush of the future. But let us remember that there lies before us a new year, fair and spotless, as yet untouched by sin and failure and glowing with the hope of promise. Then let us "go forward" (Ex 14:15) into the untold future fearless and dauntless, staying our hearts on the grand promise that stands firm and changeless amid the changing scenes of time: "The Lord, He it is that doth go before thee; He will be with thee, He will not fail thee, neither forsake thee; fear not, neither be dismayed." (Deut 31:3.) Yes, it is enough, we can go forward fearless and glad with His presence with us, His hand guiding and leading, His strength protecting us to the journey's end. So we have said "good bye" to the old year and enter upon the new, realizing that we are one "nearer home" and that the hand that has led us all the days of the past will lead us until our feet shall stand in safety "within the pearly gates" of the New Jerusalem.

"As the shadows gather 'round us At the closing of the year, We look back at the days departed And perchance may drop a tear, Yet we know that we are nearer To the home of joy and love; Nearer to the "many mansions" Of "our Father's" house above."

Women watch the advertising columns because upon them devolves the necessity of spending the family income to the best advantage—which commonly means making $1 do the work of two. It is not love of shopping but the need of practicing economy that keeps them on the look out for bargains. Still, it is not feminine nature to pass a bargain by whether it is necessary to count the pennies or not.

The most complete and elaborate edition of any paper we have seen is that of the Louisville Post of last Saturday's edition. It is their annual trade edition and gives complete write ups of the city of Louisville and Kentucky. The Post, which is unsurpassed as a news medium, is thoroughly equipped mechanically, and has gained many friends in Kentucky and adjoining states.

Senator Johnson, of Alabama, says it is the negro problem that has caused the white people of the south to banish the liquor traffic. His remarks have a flavor of regret and sadness, but there are people, not necessarily friendly to the colored folk, who will hold that he ought to be glad that there is a negro problem, since it brought the reform.

Henrietta Crossman, the actress, who has gone into bankruptcy, blames her failure on "The Christian Pilgrim." Well, Christian pilgrims very often travel an uphill and rocky road.

Don't it beat all how the water wagon is increasing while the brewery is decreasing?

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at R. E. McRoberts drug store. 1m

Don't Take The Risk.

When you have a bad cough or cold do not let it drag along until it becomes chronic bronchitis or develops into an attack of pneumonia, but give it the attention it deserves and get rid of it. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are sure of prompt relief. From a small beginning the cold and use of this preparation has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by R. E. McRoberts.

One farmer experimenting on the value of feeds, has discovered that two birds, fed on grain alone, laid 197 eggs in a certain period, while two birds of the same brood, fed a variety ration, laid 294 eggs in the same time. This is certainly evidence enough in favor of the variety. In other respects the care and attention were the same.

The year 1907 has been an unusually good year for all engaged in the live stock business on the Louisville market, says the Farmers Home Journal. It has been a year of wide and erratic fluctuations, in many cases extremely disastrous to shippers and raisers of live stock, yet on the whole, the average price of cattle, hogs and sheep has been high. The total receipts at the Bourbon Stock Yards for 1907 were 6,062 horses, 132,267 cattle, 34,341 calves, 786,897,897 hogs and 365,835 sheep and lambs, or a total of 1,325,502 animals. These figures go to show that Louisville, as a live stock market, is making much headway each year.

Judge Benton's vigorous charge to the grand jury at Winchester a short time since has been widely copied and most favorably commended. After referring to the lawlessness engaged in the dark tobacco district he emphasized the necessity of the tobacco growers of the burley belt upholding the law at every point, not only as a duty of good citizenship, but also as a means to an end or obtaining what they are striving for by and through the A S of E organization.—The Pendletonian.

HANGING SEED CORN.

A Good Place is on Nails in Joists of Barn.

Here is a method of hanging seed corn to the joists in the barn. Nails are driven into the joists at a distance of three or four inches apart. Each ear is hung to a nail either by a string attached to a nail driven into the end of the ear or by one or two husks. If placed where there is plenty of ventilation, says Prairie Farmer, this method of drying corn is reported to be very satisfactory where the corn is selected early and given a chance to dry out during fall weather.

CATHOLICS IN PHILIPPINES.

Archbishop Marty of Diocese of Manila Says They Number 7,000,000.

The religious situation in the Philippines, from the Catholic viewpoint, has been pictured for American readers by Archbishop Marty, now in this country on a visit. The Most Rev. J. J. Marty was appointed archbishop of Manila three years ago, and during his incumbency he has administered 300,000 communications in his diocese. This large number, it is explained in The Catholic Mirror, is perhaps due to the fact that confirmations had not been administered in the country districts for many years prior to his arrival. By means of the ecclesiastical census instituted by the old Spanish missionaries it is ascertained that there are now 7,000,000 Christians in the archipelago. Some other facts concerning the Catholic church in the Philippines are given in The Mirror as follows:

"The idea that the church in the Philippines is rich in pure fiction. The church had been rich in lands, and these lands were productive and gave results, but for ten years no revenue has been received from any of them, and the result is poverty on the part of the church. Under the old regime the Spanish government paid for the support of the clergy. This, of course, has been withdrawn, and the clergy are dependent on the voluntary contributions of the people. The people had not been accustomed to support the clergy directly; they supported them indirectly through the taxation system. The direct contributions are now a hardship to them, the support which they give to the church is very meager, and the priests are in extreme poverty."

"There are 400 priests in the diocese of Manila; 120 priests in the diocese of Jaro; 110 in the diocese of Vigan; 250 in the diocese of Cebu, and 150 in the diocese of Nueva Caceres. In the United States we have 14,000,000 Catholics, with 14 archbishops, 90 bishops and 15,000 priests. In the Philippine islands we have 7,000,000 Catholics, just 50 per cent. of those in America, and we have 1 archbishop, 5 bishops and 1,040 priests. The striking contrast in these figures shows without comment how much remains to be done."

ONWARD AND UPWARD.

The general plans for the establishment of a great Presbyterian rallying place at Montreat, in North Carolina, have been published in the church papers. It is proposed to make Montreat far more than a mere summer resort. It is to be a rallying place for Presbyterians of the south.

Charles Carroll Brooks, the founder of "The Very Small Library," is planting libraries in various mountain communities. He is a mountain boy and was brought up in the Blue Ridge, near Harper's Ferry, W. Va.

Education is going on apace in Uganda, in Central Africa, and there is no separation between it and religious teaching. A C. M. S. missionary writes: "The boys and girls are being brought up in the fear and nurture of the Lord, because they first learn that the beginning of wisdom is to know God and Jesus Christ whom he has sent."

"What makes you women so different from us?" a Mohammedan woman in Persia asked of Miss McLean, of the Presbyterian mission. "Is it what you eat? Won't you make me a dress just like yours, so that I may look like you?" Miss McLean made her the dress, and she confesses that the woman was not a pretty picture when arrayed in it. "I haven't got the look yet," she said, as she came back, disappointed. "There is something in your eyes that isn't in ours." What made the difference was the light of Christ shining within.

Robert E. Lewis, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in central China, writes that the evangelistic meetings in Korea, during the recent visit of John R. Mott, were of remarkable power. A three days' campaign was held at Seoul. At one meeting over 200 men rose and stood as evidence of their desire to accept Jesus Christ.

Prof. Marcus Dods Honored. Prof. Marcus Dods has been chosen by the United Free Church Assembly of Scotland to succeed the late Dr. Rainy as principal of New College, Edinburgh, one of the theological schools of the United Free church. Dr. Dods' promotion from the professorship of New Testament theology is especially remarkable from the fact that he is 73 years old. For ten years after leaving the theological school he sought in vain for a pastorate, but he has ripened late, increasing his influence till his greatest advancement has come when he is past threescore and ten.

Led All to Christ. A Sunday school teacher said not long ago: "I have 14 young women in my class, and I have had the joy of leading every one of them to Jesus."

The Horses at Night. When the weather permits, try hitching the horses out these warm nights; or, what is better, leave the stable door open and let them go out into a small lot to roll and lie down on the ground instead of in the hard, narrow stalls.

Our best wishes go with this excellent family and here is hoping success may attend them, but that they may soon return to old Kentucky.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says, "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence." The law requires that the amounts of chloroform, opium, morphine, and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. Some people never display their retiring dispositions except in the face of an enemy.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a real plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub, which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr Shoop's Cough Cure. R E McRoberts

The Kentucky graduates of Prof Lippard's Business College recommended his schools. One writes, "Am well pleased with position. Thank you." Another, "Am delighted with results attending your schools which are excellent because interest is taken in each student, individually. Because you secure positions for your graduates when a great many other schools fail. I would advise anyone contemplating a business course to attend your schools." 2c

Falcon as Ship's Mascot. Ohio Fred is a large falcon with a curved and wicked looking beak and claws which command respect from all. He was captured by Chief Officer F. G. Mills when the vessel was about 100 miles inside of Unimak Pass, on the voyage north.

Mr. Mills only secured Fred after a hard struggle. The bird alighted on the foretop of the steamship one afternoon. There was a heavy wind and the big bird was tied out. Mr. Mills climbed aloft and after a struggle succeeded in bringing Fred to the deck. Fred, however, almost took them both overboard on the way down from the foretop. He struggled with his large wings and nearly took the officer from the rigging.

Mr. Mills, however, clung to his prize, and the result was that Fred became the pet and mascot of the ship. It was only with his cap that he would become friendly. To anyone else approaching he shows his beak and threatens them with his claws and they keep their distance. Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Non-Barking Dogs.

To teach a dog not to bark would seem to be as impossible a task as teaching a child not to cry or a boy not to talk loud, but there is a case on record where a dog was so taught, although it took the trainer three years to accomplish it. Then he thought he had a dog that differed from all the other dogs in the world, but in this he was mistaken, for there are at least three varieties of dogs that never bark—the lion-headed dog of Thibet, the shepherd dog of Egypt and the Australian dog. The law in some countries is quite severe on night-barking dogs. In Japan, for instance, the owner of the dog is liable to arrest and to a penalty of one year's work on the complaint of any one who has been disturbed by the barking. There would be a good many arrests made if a law of that kind should be enforced in any of our suburban towns.—N. Y. Herald.

FARMERS AND GOOD ROADS.

The Latter Contribute to the Prosperity of the Farmer.

One of the factors contributing to the prosperity of the modern agricultural community is a system of good public roads. This subject has been discussed so frequently in the farm, daily and magazine press, that very few are not conversant with its more important aspects. Every one must concede that the subject is important and its benefits to the agricultural and commercial worlds are self evident.

Impetus is being given to the building of rural highways, by the activities of the office of public roads connected with the United States department of agriculture. Systematic work is being carried forward under the direction of this bureau and the influence of these federal endeavors has reached out into a number of the states.

It was quite opportune that the government undertook to foster the building of good roadways. Now, through the education received from national road experts and from the crying necessity for better means for wagon transportation of farm products to market a general demand for good permanent country highways has gone out from the agricultural classes.

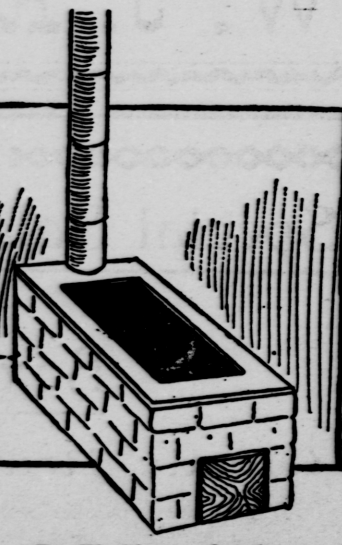

America has been exceedingly backward in developing a system of good public roads, but the time is at hand when farmers will not be compelled to haul their grain and produce over ways covered with mire or filled with dangerous ruts.

The general consensus of opinion regarding public roads, declares the Indiana Farmer, is that there should be a good, strong executive man at the head of a forceful commission dealing with the question. Twenty-one states in the union have such a commission with an active and capable civil engineer or some other skillful, practical man at its head. It will be noticed that these states are improving their highways and are making them permanent and durable. Prominent among the states thus applying business methods and scientific principles to road building are New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. The 17 other states are following suit very closely and good results are noticeable. Of course it will require many years before every section in these states is immediately benefited, but it suffices that the work is well begun.

AN OUTDOOR FURNACE.

It Can Be Put to Many Uses on the Farm.

Build the furnace walls of brick and mortar. When three inches high lay iron strips crosswise four inches apart; this makes the grate. Build as high as you want the walls, finishing with a top from an oldtime heater or a part of an old cook stove. Take

For Washing or Canning.

An old stove door for the furnace door, suggests the Missouri Valley Farmer, leaving room for ventilation under the door. Use any kind of piping, but four or five-inch pipe is better than larger. Build the furnace in a shed or some other convenient place.

WHEN JEFFERSON WAS HOST.

Formal Dinners at White House Par taken of in Gloom.

Jefferson was a methodical man keeping account of all his expenditures, and the following accounts kept while he was in the White House show that he spent $12,000 for liquors alone during the term of eight years says a writer in the Home Magazine. When we take into consideration the fact that glasses clinked merrily around the cabinet table as well as the dining table, and that an open buffet was kept for all callers, this amount is not surprising. Notwithstanding the low prices, Jefferson often spent as high as $50 on the small dinners, wine list not included and he was most particular about his wines and brandies.

Jefferson's state dinners were usually limited to about 40 guests. The large dining room was not considered finished, so when his guests were numerous he had a long table placed in the center of the great east room, and dismal enough it must have been, with its bare walls, many windows and draughts and insufficient light from the candles, which dropped wax tears at every wind which blew up from the Potomac. No wonder Jefferson and several of his successors looked forward dimly to the state affairs and cheerfully to the informal dinners.

HUNT FOR A HANGMAN.

Difficulty in Finding Some One to Execute a Murderer.

The British army was once in difficulties through the lack of a hangman. Murder was committed by a soldier in the Crimea, but nobody could be found to carry out the sentence of the court-martial.

It was announced that £20 and a free discharge would be granted to the man undertaking the task. At last a man volunteered. He was a newcomer to the army.

On the night prior to the date fixed for the execution they looked up the hangman in a stable to keep him safe. In the morning the party at the gallows waited, but there was no hangman. He had gone mad during the night, or else he was now simulating madness.

The officer in command turned to one of his captains with "Captain, you will have the goodness to hang the prisoner." The captain changed countenance, but he pulled himself together, and appealed to the sergeants with: "Which of you will hang this man?"

And to spare his captain, one of the men volunteered. He afterward had the satisfaction of flogging the man who had volunteered and failed.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Science Has Now Found The True Way to Cure Indigestion.

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation. But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-on-a tablet before each meal.

This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion, will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by Mi-on-a before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that leading druggists give with every 50-cent box of Mi-on-a, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows their confidence in the treatment. Sold and guaranteed by

BEST OF PROOF

That Hyomei Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousands, many of them from our own town, that Hyomei is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, but the best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that is given with every outfit sold. "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by serial No. 1418.

By breathing Hyomei, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfects and heals. To be convinced of this you have only to give it a trial, remembering that if it does not cure, your money will be refunded.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the disease, making it not only a scientific treatment, but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit to-day if you have any catarrh. Sold and guaranteed by

R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

Years of Suffering Then Robust Health

Great Remedy Cured Skin Disease of Long Standing.

Mr J. Weber, of 1065 Vine street, San Jose, Cal., writes an interesting story of terrible skin suffering which ended in robust health when he found a remedy which cured him like magic. Here is Mr Weber's own story:

"In July, 1900, my face began to be affected with a terrible skin disease. I went to a doctor, and he told me that I had been poisoned and he wanted to operate on me. I refused to let him do so and after a few months my face was an awful sight. You could see that it was diseased to the bone. Some people claimed that I had cancer. Great boils would appear, increasing in size and causing me terribly. I began to doctor again but no one could help me, large pimples and boils would continue to come. At that time I had as many as ten on my face. I was such a terrible sight that my friends could not bear to see me. I doctored for five years until my funds gave out and I had to stop. During this time I tried over 300 remedies.

"One day I happened to hear of D D D Prescription and learned that it had cured several bad cases of Eczema. I purchased a bottle and then I got a second bottle. The use of five bottles cured me. It has been eight months now and the disease has not returned. My friends ask what it was that cured me of the awful skin trouble and I answer that it was D D D which healed me."

We know that every word of the above letter is absolutely true. We keep D D D Prescription, the great remedy for eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, dandruff, etc because all the cures it has made appear to be lasting. Come in and talk to us about this remedy. R E McRoberts, Lancaster.
